The Siv Stone group produces cemetery memorials using marble from the same place from which the Stone of Anointment was quarried. This marble has a unique reddish tone and is thought to be particularly durable; moreover, it has a very low absorption level. We can produce high-quality cemetery memorials in a wide range of designs.

Today, the Stone of Anointment is located at the entrance to the Church of the Holy Sepulcher in the Christian Quarter of the Old City of Jerusalem. Each year tens of thousands of Christian pilgrims visit the Church of the Holy Sepulcher in order to prostrate themselves on this stone, which they regard as sacred; some Christians see it as a symbol of Jesus' crucifixion and some see it also as a symbol of his burial.

The Siv Stone group is one of the largest companies in Israel for the import and export of marble and has been in the marble business for over 35 years. We import marble from Vietnam, China, Greece, Egypt, Italy, Turkey and India. In addition, we have now come out with a new, unique product that will be of particular interest to Christians throughout the world. We produce cemetery memorials from the same stone as the famous Stone of Anointment, on which, according to Christian tradition, Jesus' body was purified after his crucifixion.

We are conducting a global search for companies prepared to serve in a given geographical region as authorized agents for our unique cemetery memorials.
